Contributions to expectations come from probability mass, not probability density

Source: Michael Betancourt